CONTENTS

No. 1, JANUARY-FEBRUARY, 1936

Vitamin C Content of Vegetables. I. Spinach. D. K. Tressler, G. L. Mack, and C. G. King 3
The Preservation of Grape Juice. I. Pasteurization of Concord Grape Juice. Carl S. Pederson 9
Studies of Numbers and Types of Microorganisms in Frozen Vegetables and Fruits. A. G. Lochhead and A. H. Jones 29
Vacuum Determination in All-Glass Canning Jars. W. A. Maclinn and C. R. Fellers 41
Microbiological Examination of Dried Foods. J. A. Clague 45
Some Observations on the Freezing Preservation of Alderman Peas. H. C. Diehl, Horace Campbell, and J. A. Berry 61
The Cause of "Black Beets": An Example of Oligodynamic Action as a Contributory Cause of Spoilage. E. J. Cameron, J. R. Esty, and C. C. Williams 73
Preservation of Grape Juice. II. Factors Controlling the Rate of Deterioration of Bottled Concord Grape Juice. Donald K. Tressler and Carl S. Pederson 87
Microbiology of Merchantable Cream-Style Canned Corn. Viola M. Michael and Fred W. Tanner 99

No. 2, MARCH-APRIL, 1936

A Lactobacillus from California Wine: Lactobacillus hilgardii. H. C. Douglas and W. V. Cruess 113
Vitamin Studies on Apples. Ira A. Manville, Avoca S. McMinis, and Fritzi G. Chuinard 121
Charts for Determining pH Values When Using the Quinhydrone and Hydrogen Electrodes and Saturated Calomel Cell. George N. Pulley 141
Control of Concentration in the Production of Tomato Pulp and Paste. H. L. Sipple 145
Bactericidal Effects of Vapors from Crushed Garlic. Lucile Walton, Milton Herbold, and Carl C. Lindegren 163
New Outbreaks of Botulism in Western United States. Ivan C. Hall 171
Chemical Studies on the Open-Pollinated, Top-Cross, and Hybrid Inbred Strains of Yellow Sweet Corn in Relation to the Quality of the Canned Product. R. R. Jenkins and C. B. Sayre 199

No. 3, MAY-JUNE, 1936

Tryptone Medium for the Detection of Flat-Sour Spores. O. B. Williams 217
Vitamin-C Content of Dairy Orange Beverages. M. J. Mack, C. R. Fellers, W. A. Maclinn, and D. A. Bean 223
Vitamin-C Content of Vegetables. II. Peas. G. L. Mack, D. K. Tressler, and C. G. King 231
The Control of Staphylococci in Custard-Filled Puffs and Éclairs. Joseph Stritar, G. M. Dack, and Frank G. Jungewaelter 237
The Storage of Black-Walnut Kernels. R. B. Dustman 247

Effect of Processing and Storage on Composition and Color of Honey. E. G. Lynn with D. T. Englis and V. G. Milum 255
Bacteriology of Green Discoloration in Meats and Spectrophotometric Characteristics of the Pigments Involved. L. B. Jensen and W. M. Urbain 263
A Delicate Test for Blood Pigments. L. B. Jensen and W. M. Urbain 275
Accuracy of Certain Methods Used in Analysis of Sauerkraut. Carl S. Pederson and C. D. Kelly 277
A New Subjective Method of Testing Tenderness in Meat—The Paired-Eating Method. Sylvia Cover 287
A Nomogram for the Relation Between the Quinhydrone Potential and pH at Various Temperatures. Georges Knaysi 297
The Preservation of Grape Juice. III. Studies on the Cool Storage of Grape Juice. Carl S. Pederson 301

No. 4, JULY-AUGUST, 1936

Isolation and Identification of an Anaerobic Organism Producing Gas in Boiled Beef. L. S. McClung and E. Wheaton 307
Dried Egg-White. A. K. Balls and T. L. Swenson 319
Preservation of Grape Juice. IV. Pasteurization of Juices or Musts Prepared from Several Varieties of Grapes. Carl S. Pederson, E. Arthur Beavens, and Harry E. Goresline 325
A Note on the Nitrogenous Constituents of Dried Apricots During Browning. Clifford L. Bedford 337
Effect of Home Canning and Storage on Ascorbic-Acid Content of Tomatoes. Esther Peterson Daniel and Marjorie B. Rutherford 341
The Cataract-Preventive Vitamin (Flavin) in Cheese. Paul L. Day and William J. Darby 349
Effect of Stage of Maturity of the Snap Bean on Its Composition and Use as a Food Product. C. W. Culpepper 357
Vitamin C in Vegetables. III. The Oxidation of Ascorbic Acid by Metallic Catalyst. G. L. Mack and Z. I. Kertesz 377

No. 5, SEPTEMBER-OCTOBER, 1936

Recent Developments in the Chemistry of Storage and Preparation of Foods. Mark A. Barmore 383
Vitamin-C Studies. The Requirement of Mice, the Effect of Large Quantities, and the Question of Its Formation Biologically. Israel S. Kleiner and Henry Tauber 399
Effect of Temperature, Variety of Juice, and Method of Increasing Sugar Content on Maximum Alcohol Production by Saccharomyces Ellipsoideus. Leonora Hohl and W. V. Cruess 405
White Rats as Experimental Animals in Studies on the Soft-Fat Problem. H. E. Robinson, R. E. Gray, and R. C. Newton 413
Observations on the Source of Flavor in Milk Exposed for Prolonged Periods to Radiation. K. G. Weckel and H. C. Jackson 419
Vitamin-C Content of Vegetables. V. Cabbage. Stella Gould, Donald K. Tressler, and C. G. King 427
Some Factors Influencing Ascorbic-Acid (Vitamin-C) Content of Apples. E. Neige Todhunter 435

Beef, Hog, Calf, and Lamb Livers as Sources of Vitamin A. Arthur D. Holmes, Francis Tripp, and G. Howard Satterfield..... 443
Methylene-Blue Induction Period and Virginity of Olive Oils. B. B. Cunningham and L. G. Saywell..... 457
An Outbreak of Salmonella Food Infection Caused by Filled Bakery Products. Edgar J. Staff and Morris L. Grover..... 465

No. 6, NOVEMBER-DECEMBER, 1936

Influence of Temperature on Growth and Toxin Production by Clostridium Botulinum. Fred W. Tanner and Elaine Williams Oglesby..... 481
Vitamin-D and Provitamin-D Contents of Some Varieties of Utah-Grown Wheat. J. E. Greaves and Harold Nielson..... 495
Composition and Nutritive Studies on Blueberries. Oreana A. Merriam and Carl R. Fellers..... 501
Observations on Reactions of Staphylococci of the Food-Poisoning Types in Gelatin. Ben D. Chinn..... 513
Effect of Preservatives on Fermentation and Viability of Sugar-Tolerant Yeasts. A. G. Lochhead and Leone Farrell..... 517
A Nomograph for Calculation of Volume of Tomato Pulp. C. A. Greenleaf..... 525
Antimony in Food Poisoning. Emanuel Kaplan and Ferdinand A. Korff..... 529
Calcium in Meat Cooked with Acid. Jessamine C. Williams..... 537
Detection and Significance of the Coliform Group in Milk. I. A Comparison of Media for Use in Isolation. M. T. Bartram and L. A. Black..... 551

INDEX TO VOLUME 1

Acid, calcium in meat cooked with 537
Alcohol production by Saccharomyces ellipsoideus 405
Anaerobic organism producing gas in boiled beef, isolation and identification of 307
Antimony in food poisoning 529
Apples, ascorbic-acid (vitamin-C) content of 435
Apples, vitamin studies on 121
Ascorbic acid, the oxidation of by metallic catalyst 377
Ascorbic acid in tomatoes, effect of home canning and storage on 341
Ascorbic acid (vitamin-C) content of apples 435
Bakery products—filled, as cause of Salmonella food infection outbreak 465
Balls, A. K., and Swenson, T. L. Dried egg-white 319
Barmore, Mark A. Recent developments in the chemistry of storage and preparation of foods 383
Bartram, M. T., and Black, L. A. Detection and significance of the coliform group in milk. I. A comparison of media for use in isolation 551
Bean, D. A., Mack, M. J., Fellers, C. R., and MacInn, W. A. Vitamin-C content of dairy orange beverages 223
Beavens, E. Arthur, Pederson, Carl S., and Goresline, Harry E. Preservation of grape juice. IV. Pasteurization of juices or musts prepared from several varieties of grapes 325
Bedford, Clifford, L. A note on the nitrogenous constituents of dried apricots during browning 337
Beef boiled, isolation of an anaerobic organism producing gas 307
Beef livers, source of vitamin A 443
Berry, J. A., Diehl, H. C., and Campbell, Horace. Some observations on the freezing preservation of Alderman peas 61
Black, L. A., and Bartram, M. T. Detection and significance of the coliform group in milk. I. Comparison of media for use in isolation 551
Black beets ..... .73
Black walnut kernels, the storage of 247
Blood pigments, delicate test 275
Blueberries, composition and nutritive studies on 501
Botulism in Western United States, new outbreaks 171
Cabbage, vitamin-C content of 427
Calcium in meat cooked with acid 537
Calf livers, source of vitamin A 443
California wine, Lactobacillus hilgardii 113
Calomel cell saturated and hydrogen electrodes when using quinhydrone in determining pH values 141
Cameron, E. J., Esty, J. R., and Williams, C. C. The cause of "black beets": An example of oligodynamic action as a contributory cause of spoilage 73
Campbell, Horace, Berry, J. A., and Diehl, H. C. Some observations on the freezing preservation of Alderman peas 61
Canning jars, vacuum determination 41
Chemistry of storage and preparation of foods 382
Chinn, Ben D. Observations on reactions of staphylococci of the food-poisoning types in gelatin 513

Chuinard, Fritzi G., Manville, Ira A., and McMinis, Avoca S. Vitamin studies on apples 121
Clague, J. A. Microbiological examination of dried foods 45
Clostridium botulinum, influence of temperature on growth and toxin production 481
Coliform group in milk, detection and significance of 551
Cool storage, grape juice 301
Corn—microbiology of cream-style canned 99
Cover, Sylvia. A new subjective method of testing tenderness in meat. The paired-eating method 287
Cruess, W. V., and Douglas, H. C. A Lactobacillus from California wine: Lactobacillus hilgardii 113
